

FYI

Complete Bathroom; Complete Kitchen Facilities. A housing unit is classified as having a complete bathroom if it has a room or adjoining areas with a flush toilet, bathtub or shower, a sink, and hot and cold piped water. A half bathroom has hot and cold piped water and either a flush toilet or a bathtub or shower, but does not have all the facilities for a complete bathroom. Up to and including the 1980 Census, these facilities must have been for exclusive use of a housing unit's inhabitants; this requirement was dropped in 1990. A housing unit has complete kitchen facilities when it has all of the following: (1) kitchen sink; (2) burners, cook stove, or microwave oven; and (3) refrigerator. Census Flashback

Here, a woman at work in her kitchen, circa 1936.

In 2000, among owner-occupied housing units, 99.7 percent had complete kitchen facilities, 99.5 percent had complete plumbing facilities, and 98.8 percent had telephone service. In 1940, 54.7 percent of housing units had complete plumbing facilities. Data on complete kitchen facilities were collected for the first time in 1970 (96 percent had complete kitchen facilities), and data on occupied housing units with "telephone in housing unit" were collected for the first time in 1960 (78.5 percent had a telephone).
